Summary

The IESO is proposing to amend the market rules to limit the IESO to losses caused by gross negligence, subject to the current limitations on recoverable damages.

Background

Under the market rules, the IESO may be liable for negligence, with some limitations, and as such requires a specialized form of errors and omissions (E&O) insurance. This is a specialized insurance product, which covers claims alleging negligent errors and omissions, but that is tailored for the unique risks related to the IESO's operations.

As a non-profit entity, absent insurance or mechanisms under the market rules, the IESO has limited sources of funding to address the risk of financial liability under the market rules. Market rules Section 13.1 of Chapter 1 contains an IESO indemnity for losses caused by IESO willful misconduct and negligence.

Until recently, the IESO obtained errors and omissions insurance to match this liability risk. Due to factors such as the hardened insurance market in 2020, the IESO was unable to renew or obtain alternate errors and omissions insurance that matches the IESO's liability risk under the market rules.

Earlier in the year the IESO initiated work with Marsh Canada to conduct an exhaustive search of Canadian and non-Canadian insurers for E&O insurance. However, the IESO was unable to renew or obtain alternate E&O insurance that matches the IESO's previous level of coverage. After a rigorous search, a limited number of insurers offered insurance limited to claims for gross negligence.

A scan of other Independent System Operators (ISOs), identified that a majority of ISOs in the United States limit their liability to gross negligence. Other international system operators limit their liability even further.

Discussion

In order to address this issue, the IESO is proposing to amend Chapter 1, Section 13.1 of the market rules to limit the IESO to losses caused by gross negligence, subject to the current limitations on recoverable damages.
