Part 1 – Market Rule Information

Identification No.: MR-00468-R00

Title: Adjustments to Intertie Flow Limits

Date of Assessment: July 18, 2022

Part 2 – Assessment

The following is the IESO's assessment of the impact of the proposed market rule amendment on the interests of consumers with respect to price and the reliability and quality of electricity service.

Impact of Price:

The ability to set intertie flow limits based on internal constraints may have a downward pressure on congestion management settlement credits charged to directly-connected consumers and local distribution companies, depending on system conditions.

Impact on Reliability of Electricity Service:

None.

Impact on Quality of Electricity Service:

None
