IESO SENIOR MANAGEMENT UPDATE

To: Stakeholder Advisory Committee
Date: November 1, 2006
Subject: Role of IESO and the OPA in Demand Response

Information Item

IESO Board Decision Date: N/A

The IESO is responsible for the design and implementation of demand response programs aimed at addressing reliability (i.e. ELRP, EDRP).

The OPA leads economic demand response program design and implementation. The operation of some economic demand response programs may require actions or notification in the course of daily system and market operations. The IESO has agreed to undertake the day-to day system operations associated with these programs.

The IESO and the OPA will work together to identify the potential impacts of the economic DR programs on IESO demand forecasts and on short and long term system reliability.
