Due to the Essential Services Order 82/20 and COVID-19 a number of contributors in the TORONTO zone have ceased operations, are operating only essential parts of their business, or rely on services that are no longer available. 3. Commercially Reasonable Efforts

Provide reasonably full particulars of efforts, if any, undertaken or contemplated by the Participant to remedy or mitigate the Force Majeure. VOLTUS ENERGY CANADA LTD (Voltus) could not have predicted or prevented the impacts of the coronavirus on the commercial and industrial electricity loads that underlie our demand response resources. Efforts to evaluate and map the changes to our ability to respond during demand response events are ongoing, and are still subject to rapidly changing conditions. In response to the coronavirus pandemic Voltus has done everything in its power to understand the impact of the pandemic and minimize the effects going forward. To date, Voltus has reached out to all contributors with additional available load above their obligation offering them incentives to increase their load curtailment. Correspondence is provided in Attachment A. New participation may compensate for some of the lost load attributable to the pandemic. Some customer loads may also return to normal operating conditions if/when shelter-in-place restrictions are lifted, at which time Voltus will again be able to fulfill the full obligation acquired in the December auction.
